Chattanooga School for the Liberal Arts is a thriving, diverse community representing students from all areas of Hamilton County. To keep with the Paideia philosophy, students participate in a Socratic seminar each week.

The seminars are anchored in a shared text to help students think critically as they analyze material and respond respectfully to others' ideas.

Teachers also incorporate field learning trips and lead integrated units of study. The faculty is committed to developing all students intellectually, personally, socially, and physically into lifelong learners and productive citizens.

Foreign Language, Music, PE, Technology, and Art classes allow all students to explore new ideas and stretch their realm of knowledge.
